IT WAS FOR CHARITY

THE CITY OF MEXICO TURNS OUT TO THE GORY EXHIBITION.

Society's Upper Crust There—President Diaz Among the Spectators—Many Thousands in the Inclosure—Nine Animals Killed—Receipts Large.

CITY OF MEXICO, Oct. 23.—The revival of bullfighting in this city yesterday was in the name of charity.

A committee of ladies of this capital, with Mrs. Diaz, the wife of the president at their head, organized it for the benefit of the sufferers from the recent floods in Spain. It was one of the greatest spectacles of the Mexican national sport ever witnessed on the North American continent.

The time set was 2:30 in the afternoon. For an hour previous San Francisco street, the Avenida Juarez and the Paseo de la Forma presented a most animated scene. Carriages of every degree, from the landaus of ministers and senators, with cockades and liveries, down to the commonest hacks, jostled together on the way to the bullfight.

All Bound For the Fight.

A stream of pedestrians bent on the same errand, filled the sidewalks, while from balconies and house tops thousands watched the passing throng. At the Plaza del Toros the people came from every direction, but so perfect were the police arrangements that no difficulty or disorder was encountered, and the human tide poured into the great amphitheatre without discomfort. It is estimated that 12,000 people were within the inclosure. Two military bands were present, and four companies of infantry served to insure good order.

A long row of boxes intended for President Diaz and his party, the ladies and their friends, and the members of the Spanish Casino, were elaborately decorated with bunting, the Spanish colors and palm branches.

Presently a roll from the drums, a flourish of trumpets, followed by the national hymn by the band stationed inside the theatre, announced the arrival of the president of the republic. His appearance in his box was the signal for enthusiastic cheers from the crowd, salutes by the soldiers and a repetition of the national hymn by the band. The applause was enthusiastic and universal.

With Waving Flags.

Hundreds of miniature Spanish and American flags were unfurled and waved by the people during the posting of the Mexican ensign in front of the President's box. The President was evidently in excellent health and spirits, and advancing to the front of his box acknowledging the cordial reception.

Accompanying the President were Mrs. Diaz, the committee of ladies and a brilliant company composed of the very cream of Mexican society. Nine bulls of a celebrated breed were killed, and the bravos of the spectators. The animals had been trained for the occasion, and many of the matadors had narrow escapes. President Diaz and party left the ring during the killing of the eighth bull. The banderillos that had been stuck into the bulls were, after the fight, sold by peddlars at extravagant prices.

This was one of the greatest series of bull-fights that Mexico has seen for years, and the amount received for admission is supposed to reach $25,000. The great crowd was demonstrative, but good natured and orderly throughout.

TIN PLATE INDUSTRY.

A Patriotic Letter From President Harrison.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 23.—Last week W. C. Cronmeyer of the United States iron and steel tin plate works, at Denim, Pa., sent President Harrison a box of tin manufactured at the Denim works. This morning Cronmeyer received the following letter from President Harrison dated Washington, October 19:

"MY DEAR SIR: I have your letter of October 15, and a box of bright tin plate, which, with the product being turned out by the United States iron and tin plate company. I have no skill in determining the character of this work, but to the eye it seems eminently satisfactory, and I thank you for this evidence that a new industry has been established in the United States. I cannot quite understand how any American can doubt we have mechanical skill and business sagacity to establish successfully here the manufacture of tin plate.

No other country certainly surpasses us in the inventive genius of its citizens, or in the business sagacity of capitalists. It is surprising to me that any patriotic American should approach this question with a desire to see this great and interesting experiment fail, or with unwillingness to accept the evidence of its success. It will be a great step in the direction of commercial independence when we produce our own tin-plate. It seems to me nothing, unless it be lack of faith in the maintenance of the present law, can thwart this desirable achievement. I can understand how our success should be doubted, and our failure accepted with satisfaction in Wales, but I cannot understand how any American can take that view of the question, or why he should always approach every evidence of the successful establishment of this industry in this country with a disposition to discredit and reject it. If a great experiment is to fail, our own people should not add to the mortification of the failure of the crime in rejecting it."

MAY SUCCEED KAUM.

The Rumored Reason for the Resignation of Governor Steele—Candidates.

KINGFISHER, Oklahoma, Oct. 23.—The rumor that Governor Steele, of Oklahoma, had resigned has been verified. The question of who will be his successor is exciting the liveliest interest.

The governor's resignation was forwarded to President Harrison over a week ago, and the letter accepting the same was received three days ago. Why Governor Steele resigned is a secret.

The resignation of Governor Steele promises to lead to a renewal of the intriguing which characterized the fight over the location of the territorial capital. Guthrie, Oklahoma City and Kingfisher all have candidates in the field, and each place is invoking the aid of every influence procurable. Telegrams from individuals and from mass meetings endorsing the various aspirants are pouring into Washington, as the leading towns regard the personal sympathies of the governor to be several points gained in the securing of the capital. The most prominent candidates seem to be John L. Dill, from Guthrie, Judge Green, of Oklahoma City and Judge A. J. Seay, of Kingfisher.

Governor Steele is now on his way to Washington at the request of the president, and rumor says that he will be tendered the commission of pensions to succeed Kaum.

TRADE MARKS.

A Sweeping Decision Against Labels of Trade Organizations.

LANCASTER, Penn., Oct. 23.—A sweeping decision against trade-union ownership of trade marks and emphatically against their employing the same to stigmatize or injure non-union competitors was handed down on Saturday by Judge Williams, being concurred in by the other supreme court judges. The Cigar makers' International Union, No. 126, of Ephrata, Lancaster county, recently restrained John H. Brendle, a cigar-maker, from using the Cigar-makers' International Union label on his goods. The county court sustained this injunction and Brendle appealed to the supreme court. Judge Williams reversed the lower court's decision on the ground that the Cigar-makers' Union is a personal and social organization, not a commercial one, and under the law of Congress cannot use trade marks.

The union label describes the cigar it accompanies, as being made by first-class workmen, and adds that all cigars not having the label are of "inferior," rat-shod, coolie, prison or filthy tenement-house workmanship. Regarding this, Judge Williams' decision says: "This is an attempt to use public means of coercion in order to find a market for the products of the union, and to prevent the sale of their work to cover them with opprobrium, and asks a court of equity to say they have a right to do it. We decline to say so."

AN AWFUL CONFESSION.

A Massachusetts Man Tells the Story of a Tragedy.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Oct. 23.—William Coy today confessed to the murder of John Whalen, whose body was found buried on the mountain side at Washington, Mass., last Tuesday. He says that he learned on Saturday, August 29, that Whalen had planned to elope with his wife, and on reaching home late that night he went to Whalen's room and found a lot of his wife's clothing in it. While he was there Whalen came in and a quarrel followed. Whalen seized an ax and struck at Coy, who grappled with him. He succeeded in getting the ax, whereupon Whalen seized a club and tried to strike Coy. As he did so Coy hit him with the ax, crushing his skull and killing him.

Coy says he then cut Whalen's throat open with the ax to make sure of him, and dragged the body out. Then he cut the bloody pieces out of the carpet and burned them, after which he took Whalen's body up the mountain, cut the legs off and burned the remains. He asserts that he acted in self defense.

Anaconda Copper Mine.

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—A special dispatch from Butte City, Mont., says: Within the next ten days the Anaconda copper mine will be in full blast. Last spring the mine shut down. Two reasons were given for this. One was that Haggin, believing he owned and controlled the bulk of the copper in the world, closed down in order to corner it. The other reason was that the railroad which runs from Anaconda over to Butte a distance of twenty-five miles, had concluded to charge Haggin its own rate for conveying ore from the mine at Butte to Anaconda, and returning the product, ready for market from Anaconda to Butte. This, Haggin would not consent to, and he closed the mine. From what is considered a pretty reliable source of information, it is stated that within the next ten days 3000 men will be put to work in the construction of a new line from Butte City to Smelter. This done, the new road will be built from Boise City, the intention being to extend it ultimately to the Pacific coast.

United States Naval Officers Insulted in the Streets of Valparaiso—They Threatened to Resort to the Force and the Secretary of Navy Upholds Them.

Associated Press Dispatches.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—A special from Washington says that Captain Schley has asked Secretary Tracy to have Admiral Brown come at once to Valparaiso to aid by his presence in seeing full justice done to the cowardly ruffians who murdered a sailor last week.

It is now alleged that Boatswain's Mate Regan was shot by a policeman. The dispatch asserts that Minister Egan will be instructed to demand reparation and that President Harrison said to Tracy: "I mean to have no more of this business from any one nation and our demand upon Chile must be recognized."

There will be four cruisers at Valparaiso when the demand is made. Captain Schley has informed Secretary Tracy that it has become impossible for American officers to go ashore without being insulted, and that hereafter they mean to go armed and resort to force in the proper way.

"We are losing our self respect by permitting these things," says Schley, "and the younger officers are wild with rage and cannot be much longer restrained."

"I don't want them to be farther restrained," said Secretary Tracy to one of the commanders, "and I have told Schley so."

AN EYE TO BUSINESS.

Sam Small's Desire to Make a Little Money on a Real Estate Deal Leads to His Arrest.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—A special to the Sun from Boston says Rev. Sam Small was arrested in that city on Monday last for obtaining $1,000 by false pretenses, at the instance of Rev. Hugh Monroe, a clergyman of Newton Lowerfalls. It is said that the transaction which resulted in the arrest was agreed upon in August, 1890, when Mr. Small was president of Oxford university. It is alleged that Mr. Small induced Mr. Monroe to pay $1,000 for a lot of land which he represented to be worth that sum. The land belonged to the university, and it is alleged that the university only demanded $500 for it, and that Mr. Small made $500 by the transaction.

FEARLESS FARMERS.

A Sheriff's Party Driven From the Field.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Oct. 23.—The Childs and Lehman factions dispute over the right to operate a saw mill on a tract of timber land, resulted in what for a time threatened to be a serious riot. The Sheriff of Cambria county, who was engaged by Childs, proceeded to the disputed property yesterday, and ordered his deputies to take possession of the mill. He was met by forty farmers, armed with revolvers, pitchforks, clubs and every conceivable weapon. The first man to cross the line was knocked senseless, and the order was then given to the farmers to fire. Before this was done, however, the sheriff's little party retreated, and the farmers are now in possession. The Childs' faction will now have recourse to law. In the mean time the farmers will guard the property and threaten bloodshed if interfered with.

They enclosed a form of note to Huntington, in which Mrs. Searies says she must repudiate the agreement signed by Timothy Hopkins until she knows what it is. Other letters were of no present importance. Burley then asked for letters from Mr. and Mrs. Searies to Hubbard and Stillman. They were read and showed deposits to Mrs. Searies' credit in banks to the amount of $240,000 in three months. The last telegram announced Mrs. Searies' death.

The fact that D. B. Robinson, the president of the Santa Fe, Prescott and Phoenix railroad, has resigned his important position as general manager of the San Antonio and Aransas Pass railroad, only shows that his business in attending to new Arizona railroads will not give him time to attend to outside business.
